Southern Region:

- 2009 South Florida Rally For Recovery! SAMSHA SPONSORED FL

09/12/2009 8:30 AM - 09/12/2009 6:30 PM

September is National Recovery Month which celebrates the real life success stories of people in recovery from alcohol and drug addiction. InTheRooms.com invites you to join us for the first ever South Florida Rally For Recovery! on Saturday, September 12, 2009, at beautiful Bicentennial Park in Miami, FL - featuring a 5K walk, festival and concert. The South Florida Rally For Recovery! by the InTheRooms Foundation and our event partner, Informed Families, starts at Bicentennial Park at 8:30AM with a 5K walk, with over 5,000 participants walking over the MacArthur Causeway on beautiful Biscayne Bay, circling Watson Island and then back to the park for an entire day of festivities. There are approximately 22 million people in the Global Recovery Community today and 8 out of 10 people have been touched in some way by the disease of addiction, either personally, through a family member, business associate or colleague. This event is the beginning of a worldwide movement to put a successful face on recovery. We are no longer the people living under the bridge, or the criminals filling our jails and institutions. We are your Moms and Dads, your Sons and Daughters, your Grandparents, and the professionals you deal with on a daily basis. We are your next door neighbors. As recently as the 1980's, breast cancer was a family's dark secret. It was whispered, not spoken. The first breast cancer walks had barely 500 participants. Because of increased awareness and the hard work of supporters over the past 2 decades, those same walks now generate over 20,000 supporters in any given community across the country. We believe that the stigma associated with addiction is debilitating to the recovering community. There is a way out, promoting awareness and understanding that recovery from alcoholism and addiction is an asset, not a liability. The Rally For Recovery! is an all day festival for the entire family. InTheRooms has formed a coalition of the most powerful forces within the Recovery community in Dade, Broward, and the Palm Beaches. We are very excited to announce our partnership with Informed Families, the organization that promotes Red Ribbon week and the "Say No To Drugs" campaign across the state of Florida. The people attending the rally will be people in recovery, and their friends, family, and allies of recovery. The Rally for Recovery! expo features goods and services by the Recovery community, for the Recovery community. Speakers in recovery and from the community are scheduled throughout the day. The expo will also feature raffles, prizes, giveaways and more, and even a special kids zone with fun for the entire family! The concert will begin in the early afternoon and will continue on during the festival. The event will be hosted by a celebrity MC. The concert will consist of artists in recovery from all over the country, Aerosmith's Richie Supa will be performing his PRISM Award winning song In The Rooms, and we also have a special guest headliner in recovery that you definitely won't want to miss!
