Re: Request for physical disaster declaration for Lee County, Florida

Dear Mr. Skaggs:

On January 9, 2016, an EF-2 tornado with estimated wind gusts in excess of 130 miles per hour swept through parts of Cape Coral and caused extensive damage to both residential and commercial properties. The tornado traveled approximately 3.4 miles and left a path 182 yards wide. Immediately following this event, the Florida Division of Emergency Management and local authorities conducted preliminary damage assessments. Damage assessments indicate that at least one business and 25 homes suffered major damage or were destroyed.

Based on this information and a United States Small Business Administration (SBA) disaster survey, the requisite 25 homes or businesses sustained uninsured losses of 40 percent or more of the estimated fair replacement value or pre-disaster fair market value. Therefore, Lee County qualifies for an SBA physical disaster declaration, pursuant to 13 C.F.R. §123.3. I request that the SBA make a physical disaster declaration for Lee County and offer low-interest SBA disaster loans to affected households and businesses that qualify. Florida is not seeking a major disaster declaration from the Federal Emergency Management Agency for this event.

Thank you for your consideration in this matter. If you need additional information, please contact Evan Rosenberg, Bureau Chief of Recovery, Florida Division of Emergency Management at (850) 528-7526.

Sincerely,
