Nature of Complaint:
Complainant expressed concerns about mishandling of case by the University of Central Florida Police Department officer, specifically regarding Victoria King, a UCF college student, with a defective tail light.

Case Notes:
3/7/14 -- Complaint received as a referral from EOG General Counsel Peter Antonacci via email to CIG Melinda Miguel

3/7/14 -- CIG Miguel spoke with EOG General Counsel Peter Antonacci on the phone and stated this office would refer the complainants concerns to the Chief Audit Executive of UCF.

3/10/14 - Letter to complainant advising his concerns are being referred to UCF IG for review and ADA. Copy UCF IG.

3/10/14 -- Emailed letter to complainant. Case closed.

3/10/14 -- IM Robinson received email from complainant stating he has been in contact with UCF Tina Maier. No further action warranted. Keep closed.

3/14/14 -- CILS 8806, complainant stated he was calling regarding a complaint he made and received a letter from Ms. Robinson with CIG #201403070003. Complainant requested email address for Heather Robinson, which was provided to him. Complainant also asked if he would be receiving a response from this office and he was advised that his concerns were referred to Chief Audit Executive for review and ADA and they would be contacting him and the matter is closed in this office. Complainant said UCF Audit did interview him yesterday and did a very good job. Complainant further stated that he had asked Pete Antonacci to have FDLE investigate the criminal matter. It was explained to Mr. Wood that the protocol normally is that once anything criminally is discovered it is then referred to FDLE. Complainant said FDLE is already involved and he needs something formal from the Governors Office stating that. Complainant was advised that this office is unaware of FDLE investigating and he would need to follow-up with Mr. Antonaccis office. Complainant asked for Mr. Antonaccis telephone number and it was provided to him. Complainant further requested copies of documents in the file other than those that he would already have. When reviewing the case on the OCIG database, complainant was advised of the documents contained in the file and he then stated he wanted to defer his PRR at this time. Complainant expressed appreciation for the assistance and the call was concluded.

5/20/14 -- CILS 9055, 5:08pm, Complainant left message on OCIG phone expressing concerns about a complaint he filed with the CIG in March. (CIG #201403070003) Complainant stated this office referred his concerns to UCF, and he was interviewed by Tina Mayer on 3/10, and now two months later there has been no action taken. Complainant stated based on evidence, videotape and admissions by the UCF police officer, the officer lied to the woman in his complaint. Complainant stated he would like CIG to ask UCF why theyre taking so long in their investigation.

6/12/14 -- CILS 9143, received call on the CIG phone line from complainant who asked for IM Robinson. EA Sanders advised she was gone for the day and offered assistance. Complainant asked for the name of the CIG. Although EA Sanders spelled it to complainant, he continued to call her "Linda Miguel." Complainant provided his name and said that he is a complainant in an OIG case, and a reporter with the Bay Community News. He provided CIG #201403070003 and EA Sanders recognized his issues. Then complainant asked for the CIGs email address. EA Sanders provided "cig@eog.myflorida.com" then complainant said ok now give me the CIGs email (Melinda Miguels). EA Sanders reiterated that if he emails cig@eog.myflorida.com it will get to CIG Miguel. Complainant called EA Sanders a liar and demanded CIG Meguels email. He said he had already looked it up but he wanted EA Sanders to give it to him anyway. EA Sanders placed complainant on hold and conferred with OCIG Case who advised to go ahead and give him the email and let CIG Miguel know. EA Sanders returned to the call and provided the following email address, "melinda.miguel@eog.myflorida.com." Complainant then asked for Heather Robinsons email. EA Sanders provided, "heather.robinson@eog.myflorida.com". Complainant said that when he sends his emails out he wants to know it went directly to CIG Miguel and IM Robinson despite the fact that they get emails from the CIG inbox. Complainant repeated his same concerns as in 201403070003. Complainant said UCF is covering this up and he wants this office to reopen our case. EA Sanders advised this office does not have jurisdiction over the universities such as UCF but he strongly disagrees. Complainant said that the governor does have jurisdiction. Furthermore this governor has the power to refer this to FDLE for investigation, which he believes needs to happen. EA Sanders told the complainant she would note that. Complainant apologized for being harsh and said that he has been fighting for access to public records for many years. He said with the help of his friend Carolyn Timmann he has sued many government employees like EA Sanders who have lied to him and prevented him from access to public records. Complainant was informed this information would be relayed to her supervisors and the call was ended.

Closure Statements:
3/10/14 -- Emailed letter to complainant. Case closed.

Mr. Antonacci,

Please disregard my prior two emails because I hit "SEND" twice accidentally before it was completed. Please see below for the complete complaint.

Thanks,

Kevin Wood
850-785-3768

Mr. Antonacci,

This is a request that the Governor request that the Florida Department of Law Enforcement (FDLE) investigate malfeasance, misfeasance, neglect of duty, possible criminal conduct, or other misconduct involving the University of Central Florida (UCF) Police Department (UCFPD). See e.g. Section 112.51 F.S.

On or about September 4, 2013, Officer Timothy Isaacs of UCFPD stopped Victoria King, a UCF college student, on the UCF campus for a defective tail light while Ms. King was heading to a UCF [redacted] Ms. King was driving her mother's car. Ms. King is a black female. Officer Isaacs is a white male.

Officer Isaacs approached Ms. King's driver's side and Ms. King handed Officer Isaacs her driver's license without incident through her open window (see attached photo).

Officer Isaacs returned to his patrol car, ran her information through his computer, verified that this was her mother's car, and immediately decided to issue her a tail light traffic citation (see attached photo) without considering to give her (1) a "verbal" warning to get the tail light fixed or (2) giving her a written warning to get the tail light fixed which are standard practice by UCFPD and other law enforcement agencies in this state as I have been advised by other officers that I have interviewed including FHP (see attached standard FHP warning form). UCFPD has its own warning form that they use but Officer Isaacs did not consider using the form.

Ms. King has no prior criminal record to the best of my knowledge.

Ms. King subsequently paid an $80 fine to the Orange County Clerk of Court as a result of the citation.

When Officer Isaacs returned to Ms. King's car he insisted that she roll her window "all the way" down for "his safety." Ms. King was reluctant to do so. There was no arguable suspicion that Ms. King presented any danger to Officer Isaacs. Officer Isaacs disingenuously advised Ms. King that he had to reach into the window to have her "sign" the ticket. At no time did Officer Isaacs advise Ms. King that she did not have to "sign" the ticket.

Officer Isaacs checked on the ticket the block that says that the citation does not require a court appearance and the citation was a "noncriminal" offense under Florida tail light law.

Section 318.14(2) F.S., as amended, only requires a signature when the traffic citation is (1) a "criminal" offense or (2) when a "mandatory hearing" is required. Officer Isaacs knew, or should have known if properly trained and experienced, that he did not have to "reach" into the car to have Ms. King "sign" the traffic ticket as he dishonestly advised Ms. King.

All Officer Isaacs had to do was hand Ms. King her yellow copy of the traffic ticket through the partially opened window and let her go on her way to her [redacted] appointment. He could have even placed the ticket under her windshield wiper and let her go on her way if she refused to take the copy of the ticket, which she did not refuse. To the contrary, Ms. King even reached through her window (see attached photo) and Officer Isaacs, by his actions, refused to give Ms. King her yellow copy.

Instead, Officer Isaacs became incensed and obsessed with Ms. King rolling her window "all the way" down and unnecessarily escalated the routine traffic stop to the point of violence not only against Ms. King, but against her mother's car by (1) threatening to break out the window and (2) then breaking out the window and dragging Ms. King out of the vehicle, dragging her to the ground, handcuffing her, arresting her, and then charging her with two felonies (battery on a LEO and resisting) and a misdemeanor charge of resisting.

The two felony charges have been abandoned by the State Attorney, Jeffrey Ashton, and the misdemeanor is still pending in Orange County.

Ms. King, with the assistance of the Southern Christian Leadership Conference (SCLC) in Orlando, is represented by Orlando Attorney Roger Weeden, 407-894-9004. You may wish to contact Mr. Weeden to verify the facts and law that I present herein.

It is Mr. Weeden's position that Officer Issacs conduct and actions beyond that of handing Ms. King her yellow copy of the ticket was unnecessary to the completion of the traffic stop and therefore unlawful and unconstitutional, including in particular the demand to roll the window "all the way" down when a partially open window was more than sufficient to hand Ms. King her yellow copy of the ticket.

It is comparable to a situation where an officer asked a motorist to strip naked, stand on their head, or go jump in a lake all of which would be unnecessary to hand a motorist a copy of their ticket and let them go on their way. Officer Isaacs had numerous opportunities to hand Ms. King her copy through a partially open window but refused to do so.

Now Ms. King, with no prior criminal arrests, and striving to improve herself through education, has two felony arrests and one misdemeanor arrest on her record that may be difficult, if not impossible, to have expunged arising solely from the acts and unnecessary demands of an unreasonable, and clearly untrained by UCFPD, officer.

Yes, Ms. King, as the video shows, was insistent on her rights and resistant to the Officer's commands to roll the window down "all the way." But officers are trained to deal with difficult motorists and, again, all this officer had to do was give Ms. King her yellow copy and let her go on her way to the [redacted] appointment at UCF.

Ms. King filed a complaint with UCF on September 9, 2013. A copy of that complaint and the complete UCFPD internal affairs investigation filed is attached to this email.

At the time Ms. King filed the complaint she was unaware that she did not have to sign the ticket so therefore did not allege that Officer Isaacs was disingenuous and dishonest with her about having to reach into the car to have her sign the complaint.

Since that time I have personally emailed UCF repeatedly raising this issue for investigation and filed my own complaint, by email, with UCF and UCFPD, specifically Chief of Police Richard Beary, Internal Investigations Lt. Bill Hope, and UCF Public Information Officer Grant Heston. They refuse to address my complaint. This string of emails can be made available to you or FDLE at your or FDLE's request. UCF and UCFPD were clearly placed on notice by me of the issue that Ms. King did not have to sign the ticket and therefore this Officer did not have to "reach" into the car to have her "sign" the citation.

However, UCFPD has issued a report (see again attached investigative file) that has completely avoided this issue through omission and UCF refuses, to date, to amend the investigation to include these issues of negligence or malfeasance by Officer Isaacs. They have, for lack of a better term, whitewashed and covered up Officer Isaacs' misconduct and arguably falsified the final report by omission and avoidance. It is alleged that Lt. Hope's and Chief Beary's avoidance and concealing of the above issues constitutes falsification of a public record under Florida Law by avoidance and omission to cover up knowing misconduct of one of their officers:

> 839.13 Falsifying records.—
> (1) Except as provided in subsection (2), if any ...public officer, or employee or agent of or contractor with a public agency, or any person whatsoever, shall...falsify or avoid any record...shall knowingly and willfully take off, discharge or conceal any issue...or if any person shall cause or procure any of the offenses aforesaid to be committed, or be in anywise concerned therein, the person so offending shall be guilty of a misdemeanor of the first degree, punishable as provided in s. 775.082 or s. 775.083.

Regardless of the criminal conduct involved, refusing to address the above issues certainly constitutes malfeasance, misfeasance, neglect of duty, or other misconduct by Lt. Hope and Chief Beary.

It is my hope and prayer that Governor Christ will intervene to do what Lt. Hope and Chief Beary refuse to do and formally assign FDLE to investigate this matter.

Respectfully Submitted,

Kevin Earl Wood

SUBJECT: Administrative Review BC13-003 Final Report

SUMMARY OF EVENTS

On September 9th, 2013, Victoria King filed a complaint on the UCF Police Department Website against Officer Timothy Isaacs. Ms. King was stopped by Officer Issacs on Gemini North near the intersection of SR434 at 1126 hours on September 4th, 2013 for an equipment violation. Ms. King was operating a 1996 Mercury sedan with only one brake light operating properly. Ms. King alleges Officer Isaacs acted hostile, violently and aggressive towards her. She alleges he used excessive force when breaking her window and while arresting her on false charges. In addition, Ms. King felt the officer's actions were racially motivated as the officers were both white and she is black. The entire stop was recorded by Officer Isaacs utilizing his Axon Flex Body Camera. (See disc labeled 2013-2804)

Upon approaching Ms. King and her vehicle, Ms. King completely rolled down her driver's side window. Officer Isaacs asked her for her driver's license, registration and insurance. Ms. King replied it was her mother's car and she just dropped her mother off and that she had a [redacted] appointment at UCF. At this time Officer Isaacs advised her he stopped her due to the vehicle having only one working brake light. Ms. King gave Officer Isaacs her driver's license. She continued to state she had [redacted] and she had an appointment. Officer Isaacs asked her for the insurance card and registration and Ms. King replied it was her mother's car and she had no way to get in touch with her. Officer Isaacs asked her if she wanted to look in the glove compartment for the items and she replied no it was her mother's car. At this time, Officer Isaacs advised her he would "run" her information and would be back.

Officer Isaacs checked Ms. King's information on his MDT and wrote her a citation for having defective brake lights. He cited her under FS316.610 which is commonly referred to as a "fix-it" ticket. This type of citation allows the offender to have the equipment fixed and have a police officer or mechanic check to ensure it is working properly. This action is recorded on the citation and presented to the court as proof the equipment was repaired. At this time, the court will dismiss the citation and charge a court fee only.

Officer Isaacs then returned to Ms. King's vehicle with the citation. At this time, Ms. King's driver's side window was only down approximately two inches. Officer asked Ms. King to roll her window down. Ms. King rolled her window down halfway and Officer Isaacs requested she roll it down all the way. Ms. King asked Officer Isaacs "what was going on and why she had to roll it all the way down?" Officer Isaacs replied it was for officer safety, he needed her to sign the citation and he did not want to reach inside her vehicle. She continued to ask why she had to roll the window down and after asking her two more times, Officer Isaacs ordered her to step out of the vehicle. At this time Ms. King rolled her window up and refused to step out of the vehicle. Officer Isaacs then requested a back-up officer. Officer Mica Wenner arrived on the scene and positioned herself at the passenger's side front window. Officer Isaacs again tapped on the driver's side window asking Ms. King to exit the vehicle. At this time, Ms. King made a phone call on her cell phone and ignored Officer Isaacs's requests. At this time, Officer Wenner was also advising her to open the door and roll down her window. Ms. King then rolled her window down approximately 2 inches and asked Officer Isaacs "what did I do?" At this time both Isaacs and Wenner advised Ms. King the window would be broken if she did not exit the vehicle. At this time Ms. King advised the officers she was recording the incident on her cell phone. Officer Isaacs advised her he was recording the incident as well. Ms. King repeatedly asked Officer Isaacs what was the law, and Officer Isaacs explained that she was being detained on a lawful traffic stop. While trying to explain, Ms. King kept interrupting by saying "what was the law, why am I being detained," etc…

Officer Isaacs then reached in the slightly lowered driver's side window with his right hand to attempt to open the door. He advised Ms. King not to roll the window up on his arm. Ms. King rolled the window up on Officer Isaacs's right arm at which time he grabbed the window with his left hand and pulled outward on the window at which time the window shattered. Ms. King still refused to exit the vehicle pulling away from Officer Isaacs and Officer Wenner. At this time both Officer Isaacs and Officer Wenner escorted Ms. King from the vehicle and guided her to the ground to place her in handcuffs. Ms. King continued to ask why this was happening and stated it was not necessary. She also stated she was having [redacted] The Fire Department was summoned to the scene. Ms. King refused transport to the hospital and Officer Isaacs was treated for [redacted] Ms. King was charged with Battery On A Law Enforcement Officer (FS784.07(2)(B)-3), Resisting An Officer With Violence (FS 843.01), and Resisting An Officer Without Violence (FS843.02). Ms. King was processed and booked into the Orange County Correctional Facility.

INVESTIGATION:

September 10th, 2013 Hours.

I sent Ms. King an email requesting her to file a formal complaint with a sworn written statement.

September 10th, 2013 1506 Hours.

Ms. King reported to the UCFPD as per my request. I asked her to complete a sworn statement. She asked if she could use the complaint she had already filed. I transposed her complaint to a sworn statement form which she signed under oath. I asked her if she would be willing to come in for a videotaped interview. She asked me why and I advised her it would help me with the investigation. I advised her we would review the recording of the event which was captured by Officer Isaacs body camera, and she could point out specifically where each allegation occurred. She stated she would contact me.

September 17th, 2013 1151 Hours.

I sent Ms. King an email requesting an interview. She replied "Certainly. However, I am curious to know, what will be the outcome of us gathering/meeting?" I replied; "The reason I need to interview you is to attempt to gain more information to support your complaint. Specifically, we will review the video evidence to identify the exact actions you based your complaint on. In addition, the Officer will have the right to review our meeting which will be audio/video taped before he is called in to be interviewed as required by Florida Statute 112".

September 26th, 2013, 0909 Hours.

I did not receive a response from Ms. King to my September 17th email. I sent Ms. King another email requesting she set up an appointment with me to conduct an interview. I also left her a telephone voice mail message.

October 4th, 2013. 1109 Hours.

Ms. King replied via email that she received my email and my voice mail message and replied "I will certainly contact you once I am available to meet with you, as stated before. I have not forgot about this incident/event, as it is very important to me. None-the-less, Thank you for keeping in touch".

October 7th, 2014.

Interviewed Officer Wenner. Obtained a sworn statement. On September 4, 2013 she had completed a statement as a witness to the event as a supplement to the original incident report. No inconsistencies noted.

October 8th, 2013 0837 Hours.

I responded to Ms. King thanking her for returning my email.

December 4th, 2013.

A certified letter was sent to Ms. King requesting she contact me no later than January 15th, 2014 to schedule an appointment. According to postal records, she received and signed for the letter December 12th, 2013.

January 16th, 2014. 0900 hours.

Ms. King failed to contact me by the above listed above. I decided to continue my investigation without an interview with her.

January 22nd, 2014. 1018 hours.

I interviewed Officer Isaacs in Room 314 at the UCFPD. The interview was audio and video recorded. See attached CD.

FINDINGS:

Upon review of the video/audio evidence retrieved from the body camera worn by Officer Isaacs, the written sworn statement of Ms. King, and the statement of Officer Wenner I find as follows:

The vehicle Ms. King was operating clearly had only one break light working. Officer Isaacs was traveling behind Ms. King's vehicle and could not determine the race or gender of the operator. When Officer Isaacs approached Ms. King's vehicle, her demeanor seemed very positive as indicated by her facial expressions (smiling) and the fact that she did roll her window completely down. Even though she stated she had [redacted] she displayed no overt signs of [redacted]. I found Officer Isaacs's initial actions with Ms. King very polite, courteous, and professional. Even though Ms. King failed to produce a vehicle registration and proof of insurance as required by law, and failed to even try to locate these items in the vehicle, Officer Isaacs had made the determination he would simply perform a records check to confirm the registration and proof of insurance and "overlook" the violations of failing to produce these items. Subsequently, Officer Isaacs decided to only issue Ms. King a "fix-it" ticket", instead of citation which would have required the payment of a fine.

Upon Officer Isaacs return to Ms. King's vehicle, it appears Ms. King's demeanor had changed. Although she initially rolled the window all the way down for Officer Isaacs, she now decided she would only roll it down half-way. Officer Isaacs remained professional, courteous and calm after Ms. King repeatedly asked him what she did wrong and why she had to roll her window down. Officer Isaacs repeatedly advised Ms. King to roll her window down so he could get her to sign the citation. He also advised her that he did not want to reach inside her window for officer safety reasons, which is safety technique taught to police officers.

Officer Isaacs at this point considered issuing Ms. King the citation without her signature. However, when Ms. King rolled her window completely up, Officer Isaacs based on reasonable suspicion decided to direct Ms. King to exit the vehicle. She stated she was having [redacted] but yet showing no [redacted] actions to support this claim, the refusal to even look in the glove box for the vehicle registration and proof of insurance, and now the refusal to exit the vehicle would create a reasonable suspicion for a police officers. When Ms. King finally rolled the window down two to three inches, Officer Isaacs felt this would be the only way to get her out of the vehicle. At this point, he was afraid she would attempt to drive off which could result in himself, his partner or innocent persons placed in harm's way. Officer Isaacs also had reasonable belief she may have a weapon or contraband inside the vehicle and her behavior and possible [redacted] could lead to erratic or dangerous vehicle operation.

Ms. King rolling the window up on Officer Isaacs arm was the direct cause for the window to be broken. When Officer Isaacs felt his arm being trapped, and in fear she would drag him down the road, he felt he had no recourse but to break the window. I do not believe the window would have been broken if Ms. King had not attempted to roll up the window. When the door was opened, Ms. King continued to disregard the officer's instructions to exit the vehicle. By refusing to move, and by pulling away, she left no other choice for the officers but to forcefully remove her from the vehicle. I found the removal from the vehicle to be clearly within reasonable limits and followed all training protocols.

Officer Isaacs called the Orange County Fire/Rescue to ensure Ms. King's to check on her [redacted] Officer Isaacs' demonstrated professionalism, courtesy and control throughout the entire incident. I do not find any "intimidating", "hostile" or "aggressive" behavior exhibited by either officer on the scene. In addition, Officer Isaacs had to use a "command voice" to communicate with Ms. King as she was talking while he was answering her questions and not responding to his directions.

CONCLUSION:

Therefore, based on my Administrative Inquiry I find as follows:

Alleged violation of

UCF Rules and Regulations -3.0191 (t) Rudeness to Students, Staff or the Public. Impolite, discourteous, unprofessional, or uncooperative language or actions towards students, staff, or the public.

1. First occurrence: Oral reprimand.

2. Second occurrence: Written reprimand.

3. Third occurrence: Suspension.

4. Fourth occurrence: Discharge.

NOT SUSTAINED

And subsequently, violation of

UCFPD General Order 1003.4 (6) "Members shall not violate any law or agency or university policy, rule, procedure or general order".

NOT SUSTAINED

I find there is no cause for discipline in regards to this matter and recommend this Administrative Review be closed.

If you have any questions or concerns please advise.

Bodily Injury -Property Damage-Officer violently and aggressively broke window, even as I, Victoria King, was trying to communicate with the other officer who came to the other side of the vehicle.
-Intimidation and threat to destroy property, rather than clear communication when asking legal questions and trying to accept the traffic citation-asked Officer Isaccs if it was "a Law to roll the Window all the way down in order to receive the citation"...He stated the Law is that I was being detained.
-Refusal to hand over citation when window was down more than enough to pass/exchange the citation..
-Aggressive Behavior and Violence- as I was calm, Officer Isaccs demeanor changed rapidly as I was calm and as I could not provide insurance nor vehicle registration.
-False charges- Including FELONY, "Battery"-when I was in the vehicle (growing frightened and afraid for my life due to the Officer's Aggression)and as I began to raise up the window as the aggressive Officer began to follow through with his threats (inserting his hands to begin destroying property)and I was looking for the calm Officer to speak with, who began to bang on the passenger window and yell, not knowing what was going on nor calming anything down. I feel as though both Officers, especially officer Isaccs, wanted trouble that day. I feel as though it was Racial (the way I was being treated as well as all officers being White, ignoring Me, etc. There were no other nationalities of officers on duty) as well as just a hostile and aggressive Officer who needs to be evaluated (I believe he lost control and continued to lose control even as another officer came over, perhaps she could have communicated by coming to the drivers window rather than the passenger's to again traumatize me and bang on the window, she was of no help and also did not Represent the police Department well. Officer Isaccs did not have her come over to speak to Me, but to intimidate and encourage her to use aggression as well, I was extremely frightened at both of their behavior). I am fearful that if his behavior does not get evaluated, Officer Isaccs may end up seriously Harming/Killing Peaceful Citizens and Students, as he was extremely aggressive and violent towards myself, a calm person who asked him intelligible questions in which he should've been able to answer, openly and honestly without intimidation and aggression. He mentioned his safety, and I assured him, by placing both of my hands in front of the window for him to see, and I asked him to hand me the citation so that I may sign it, He used intimidation, threats, and aggression as a response. I am traumatized, hard for me to study and focus on homework, scared to come back to UCF, my school where I am suppose to feel safe. I was in fear for my life. I had identified myself to the officer: gave drivers license, stated my business on campus-which was for a [redacted] visit at the school [redacted], stated that I was a Student, and that the vehicle was not mine but my mother's. The window was all the way down at first initial contact with officer, until I felt uncomfortable due to his aggressive behavior and consistent request for information in which I did not have. I have been greatly inconvenienced Financially, Academically,Emotionally, and record-wise in regards to my Public Record. Officer Isaccs did not uphold Integrity, Justice, Trust, or Service...The mission values of the UCF Police Department, and I'm sure there are other Officer's who would represent the Orlando/UCF Police Department better than that of Officer Isaccs as well as the departments mission. Narrative:

The undersigned has probable cause to believe the above-named defendant on the, 09/04/2013 at 11:26 at N. GEMINI BLVD (Zone: 22) in Orange County did:

intentionally touched or struck the affiant against his or her will causing bodily harm to the affiant. The affiant is law enforcement officer at the University of Central Florida Police Department, and was in his issued police uniform with badge and insignia plainly visible. The defendant knew the affiant was a law enforcement officer, as the battery occurred during a traffic stop wherein the affiant stopped the defendant in a marked police vehicle with emergency lights activated. The affiant was engaged in the lawful performance of his duties when the battery was committed.

On 09/04/2013 at approximately 1126 hours I conducted a traffic stop on a 1996 silver Mercury bearing Florida tag 2722GM for only having one working brake light (the passenger side brake light was the only working light). I approached the driver, identified myself, and informed her of the reason for my stop. I requested the drivers driver license, the registration for the vehicle she was operating, and proof of vehicle insurance. The driver presented a Florida driver license identifying herself as Victoria Alexis King DOB: 09/06/1987. I asked King if she had the registration and the insurance, to which said told me the vehicle was her mothers. I asked King if she wanted to look for the registration as she was required to produce it, and that the civil penalty was $114 for not possessing one. King looked around and said she didn't have it. I returned to my marked police vehicle and completed a UTC (A0M4CIP) for only having one working brake light. I decided to provide a verbal warning for the no proof of vehicle registration as a courtesy. When I reapproached the vehicle to issue the citation, King became upset and refused to roll the window down all the way. I subsequently told King multiple times to roll down the window to which she continued her defiance. I asked King to exit the vehicle instead, as she was not complying with my order to roll the window down. King again refused, and rolled up her window entirely. I continued to provide verbal orders to King for her to roll down the window, but she continued to refuse compliance. I told King that her window would be broken if she doesn't roll it down. King rolled her window down 1/4 of the way, but refused to roll it all the way down. I reached in the vehicle in an attempt to open the door, as I did this, King began to roll the power windows up on my right forearm. I began to feel pressure on my forearm due to the window compressing it against the frame of the window. I forcefully pulled my arm back, and broke the window due to the defendants blatant disregard to all of the orders that were given to her, and her attempt to close the window on my arm. After the window shattered, I unlocked the door and attempted to pull the defendant out of the vehicle. She still persisted in her defiance, refusing to comply with my, and Officer Wenner's

On September 4, 2013 at approximately 1140 hours, I responded to a request for backup by Ofc. Isaacs during a traffic stop. When I arrived on scene at 1140 hours, Ofc. Isaacs was at the driver's side window telling the driver to roll down the window and to open the door multiple times. I heard Ofc. Isaacs warn the driver that if she did not comply, the window would be broken. She did not comply so I hit the passenger's side window with my hand and told her to roll the window down and reiterated that the window would be broken. I was unable to see the top of the driver's side window but shortly after, the window shattered. I went around the driver's side as Ofc. Isaacs opened the driver's door. The driver refused to get out of the vehicle and Ofc. Isaacs attempted to pull her out. I grabbed the driver's other arm and assisted in removing the driver from the vehicle then put her on the ground to reduce further resistance during cuffing. While Ofc. Isaacs was placing handcuffs on the driver, she pulled her left arm away. Once she was handcuffed, we helped her to her feet then she informed us that she may have been [redacted]. Basis: In regards to a campus event at 11:30am Wed Sept 4th, 2013: -Bodily Injury -Property Damage-Officer violently and aggressively broke window, even as I, Victoria King, was trying to communicate with the other officer who came to the other side of the vehicle. -Intimidation and threat to destroy property, rather than clear communication when asking legal questions and trying to accept the traffic citation-asked Officer Isaccs if it was "a Law to roll the Window all the way down in order to receive the citation"...He stated the Law is that I was being detained. -Refusal to hand over citation when window was down more than enough to pass/exchange the citation.. -Aggressive Behavior and Violence- as I was calm, Officer Isaccs demeanor changed rapidly as I was calm and as I could not provide insurance nor vehicle registration. -False charges- including FELONY, "Battery"-when I was in the vehicle (growing frightened and afraid for my life due to the Officer's Aggression)and as I began to raise up the window as the aggressive Officer began to follow through with his threats (inserting his hands to begin destroying property)and I was looking for the calm Officer to speak with, who began to bang on the passenger window and yell, not knowing what was going on nor calming anything down. I feel as though both Officers, especially officer Isaccs, wanted trouble that day. I feel as though it was Racial (the way I was being treated as well as all officers being White, ignoring Me, etc. There were no other nationalities of officers on duty) as well as just a hostile and aggressive Officer who needs to be evaluated (I believe he lost control and continued to lose control even as another officer came over, perhaps she could have communicated by coming to the drivers window rather than the passenger's to again traumatize me and bang on the window, she was of no help and also did not Represent the police Department well. Officer Isaccs did not have her come over to speak to Me, but to intimidate and encourage her to use aggression as well, I was extremely frightened at both of their behavior). I am fearful that if his behavior does not get evaluated, Officer Isaccs may end up seriously Harming/Killing Peaceful Citizens and Students, as he was extremely aggressive and violent towards myself, a calm person who asked him intelligible questions in which he should've been able to answer, openly and honestly without intimidation and aggression. He mentioned his safety, and I assured him, by placing both of my hands in front of the window for him to see, and I asked him to hand me the citation so that I may sign it, He used intimidation, threats, and aggression as a response. I am traumatized, hard for me to study and focus on homework, scared to come back to UCF, my school where I am suppose to feel safe. I was in fear for my life. I had identified myself to the officer: gave drivers license, stated my business on campus-which was for a [redacted] visit at the school's [redacted] stated that I was a Student, and that the vehicle was not mine but my mother's. The window was all the way down at first initial contact with officer, until I felt uncomfortable due to his aggressive behavior and consistent request for information in which I did not have. I have been greatly inconvenienced Financially, Academically,Emotionally, and record-wise in regards to my Public Record. Officer Isaccs did not uphold Integrity, Justice, Trust, or Service...The mission values of the UCF Police Department, and I'm sure there are other Officer's who would represent the Orlando/UCF Police Department better than that of Officer Isaccs as well as the departments mission. I am currently asking for a thorough review, for charges to be dropped, and compensation. If I shall think of anything else, I will let you all know. I may be reached at 407.729.1667. Dear Ms. King,

I attempted several times to schedule an interview with you in regards to your complaint filed against Officer Timothy Isaacs. The purpose of the interview is to attempt to identify your specific concerns by analyzing the video/audio footage which was recorded by Officer Isaacs during the traffic stop. It is my intent to investigate this matter to the fullest extent to ensure all evidence has been properly evaluated.

Florida State Statute requires all Administrative Investigations be completed within 180 days from the date of the complaint. Due to this time restraint, I am requesting that you contact me at the UCF Police Department so I can schedule an interview with you and review the video/audio recording together. If I do not hear from you by January 15, 2014 by the close of business, I will continue my investigation based solely on your written sworn statement and the other evidence I have compiled at that time.

I am looking forward to hearing from you. If I do not hear from you by the date listed above, you will be notified by certified mail as to the outcome of my investigation.

Sincerely yours,

On September, 4, 2013, at approximately 1140 hours, I responded to a request for backup by Officer Isaacs who was on a traffic stop. Ofc. Isaacs reported that the driver of the vehicle, Ms. Victoria King, would not roll down the window or open the door. When I arrived on scene, I heard Ofc. Isaacs tell the driver to roll the window all the way down and to open the door multiple times. Ofc. Isaacs warned the driver that if she did not comply, the window would be broken. The driver did not comply so I used my hand to hit the passenger's side front window to get her attention in the hopes that she would realize the seriousness of her failing to comply with a lawful order. I told her to open her window or it would be broken yet she still did not comply. I could hear her debating that the window was open enough. The driver rolled the window all the way up and Ofc. Isaacs had to raise his voice to ensure she could still hear his orders. The driver rolled the window down a small amount again but continued to refuse to bring it all the way down. Due to my position I could not see the top of the driver's side window but could see the lower three quarters and thus could see the window was still not rolled all the way down. I heard Ofc. Isaacs tell the driver not to roll the window up on his arm then the window shattered. Ofc. Isaacs maintained his composure and told her to get out of the vehicle but she refused. I went around to the driver's side of the vehicle and helped her out. We escorted her to the ground with minimal force. Ofc. Isaacs attempted to hand cuff her but she pulled her left arm away the first time. As she resisted, I warned her that she would be tased. Ofc. Isaacs was able to secure the handcuffs and we assisted Ms. King to her feet. Ofc. Isaacs continued to maintain his composure as he informed her that she was under arrest. She informed us that she believed she was having [redacted] and we requested [redacted] to respond to the scene. I conducted a search of Ms. King then Ofc. Isaacs placed her in the back of his marked patrol car while waiting for [redacted] to respond [redacted] responded and asked her if she wanted to go to the [redacted] She told them she did not but she wanted to go to the [redacted] They told her they could only transport her to the [redacted] and she told them again she wanted to go to the [redacted] They brought a form over for her to sign to decline the transportation to the [redacted] and she said again that she wanted to be transported to the [redacted] After several explanations that they could only transport to the [redacted] she signed the form and refused to be transported. Ms. King was placed back in the patrol car.

I did not see Ofc. Isaacs behave in a manner that was threatening or intimidating as he continued to give the driver opportunities to comply with his orders. I did not see or hear anything that would suggest that Ofc. Isaacs behaved in a manner that was racially motivated. MW

University of Central Florida and Police Benevolent Association
Discipline Dispute Resolution Process

In cases involving alleged policy violations by a unit member in an administrative investigation only, which may lead to discipline, a PBA unit member may request a Discipline Dispute Resolution Meeting (DDRM) at any time prior to final receipt of discipline or prior to filing a formal grievance. The purpose of the meeting will be to discuss potential discipline and administrative charges in order to determine if a consensus resolution can be reached on the appropriate charge(s) and discipline, if any. The meeting shall be held with the UCF Deputy Chief and include the unit member, unit member's representative, and the supervisor or another Deputy Chief designee. If the unit member wishes to include his or her attorney, then the unit member must give the Deputy Director seven days advanced written notice so that the university may include its legal counsel as well in the meeting.

If the parties reach a consensus, that consensus will be reduced to writing by the Deputy Chief. If discipline is agreed to as a result of a DDRM, the Deputy Chief shall have authority to approve up to one-hundred and twenty (120) hours of suspension, subject to approval by Human Resources for any disciplinary suspension. Discipline agreed to as a result of a DDRM in excess of 120 hours, demotions and terminations shall be forwarded to the Chief for his approval, and is subject to approval by Human Resources. The Chief's decision shall be forwarded to the Deputy Chief and if the member agrees, both the Deputy Chief and member shall sign the agreement. The resolution shall be implemented and the investigation and grievance process shall be considered complete. Should the parties not agree on the resolution, the matter will progress as if no meeting had been held.

Nothing discussed at any meeting shall be binding upon any party until a final agreement has been approved by all parties and nothing discussed at the meeting shall be used against the DDRM unit member participant or the university if a resolution is not implemented. The parties agree that should information which is discussed at the meeting, later be discovered independently, it may be used so long as the discovery is not a result of the Chief, Deputy Chief or designee disclosing it as a result of the of the DDRM.

If the PBA is not represented, at any such meeting, or if present, and not in agreement with the member on the level of discipline, the PBA will not be held to the discipline accepted in any future cases. The PBA shall be notified of any final agreement in all such cases handled by the Discipline Dispute Resolution Process.

Dear Mr. Wood:

On March 7, 2014, the Office of the Chief Inspector General received your complaint from the Executive Office of the Governor, Office of Legal Affairs, in which you expressed concerns about the mishandling of a case by the University of Central Florida Police Department.

Thank you for bringing this matter to our attention. In the event that you have any further questions, please contact the Chief Audit Executive's office for the University Audit at the University of Central Florida at (407) 823-2889.

Ms. Robinson,

Thank you very much for your fast response from the Governor's office. I've made initial contact with UCF Audit, Tina Maier, and to my great surprise she has already done an outstanding initial telephone interview with me.

I currently believe and have faith that Ms. Maier will address this matter appropriately so that justice prevails and that future contacts between UCFPD officers and students at UCF will be well defined by written policies that will avert the injustices that have occurred in this case and will specifically address how officers should handle traffic stops where a motorist (1) questions police conduct and (2) are reluctant to roll down their window down "all the way."

I have asked Ms. Maier to consider, at minimum, a letter of counseling to Officer Isaacs regarding (1) his refusal by his actions to hand Ms. King her yellow copy of the tail light ticket and let her go on her way to her [redacted] appointment at UCF even after Ms. King reached out of her half-rolled-down window to receive her ticket or the clipboard and (2) his disingenuous representation to Ms. King that he had to "reach" into the vehicle to have her "sign" the noncriminal minor tail light traffic ticket when Ms. King was not required under Florida law to sign the ticket that does not require a "mandatory hearing" and was not a "criminal" traffic citation and Officer Isaacs could have clearly handed the copy of the ticket or the clipboard through the sufficiently open window.

Even if she was required to sign the ticket, which she was not, Officer Isaacs could have handed her the clipboard through the half-rolled down window to have her sign it without himself having to "reach" into the window which he misrepresented to Ms. King.

During a recent deposition of Officer Isaacs (see attached) he admitted he did not advise Ms. King that she did not have to sign the ticket. He also admitted that he was aware that she did not have to sign the ticket.

This a sad case where a UCF student now has a criminal arrest record for two felonies and a misdemeanor simply because Officer Isaacs became obsessed and incensed with Ms. King rolling down her window "all the way."

Officer Isaacs could have just given Ms. King (1) an oral warning to get the tail light fixed or (2) a written warning to get the tail light fixed on her mother's car that she borrowed. UCFPD has forms for this written warning purpose.

Now Ms. King, and her mother, have been assessed a $94 fine for the ticket, towing and impound fees, bond fees to get out of jail, and the cost of repair of the window broken by Isaacs when a simple oral or written warning to get the tail light fixed by Isaacs would have prevented these costs to Ms. King and her mother.

Respectfully,

OFFICER TIMOTHY ISAACS,

having been first duly sworn, testified as follows:

DIRECT EXAMINATION

BY MR. WEEDEN:

Q. State your name, please.

A. Timothy Isaacs.

Q. How are you employed?

A. I work for the UCF Police Department.

Q. How long have you been employed there?

A. Seven years.

Q. And prior to that?

A. I worked for the Orange County Corrections Department for four-and-a-half years. And before that, the Osceola County Corrections Department.

Q. So you were essentially a CO at the two different jails?

A. Yeah. Started at 19, I believe.

Q. I'm sorry. How long were you at Osceola?

A. A year, year and a half. A while ago.

Q. And do you have like a title at UCF, a rank or anything like that?

A. Police officer. Officer.

Q. Do they have ranks there like corporal?

A. Yes, we do. Yeah. I was a detective up until December of 2012. I transferred back out.

Q. 2012?

A. Yeah. It was 2012, yes, sir. Or January of last year.

Q. Okay.

A. It's kind of a blur, you know.

Q. All right. So obviously, you were an officer back on September the 9th -- excuse me, September the 4th, 2013 --

A. Yes, sir.

Q. -- right? And what's your jurisdiction out there? Is it just on campus or the vicinity or what?

A. Our jurisdiction is within a thousand feet of any property that is owned; maintained by the university. It includes any affiliated properties. We have off-campus affiliated housing.

Q. Are you, like, deputized as well by the Sheriff's Department?

A. No, we're not.

Q. Any cross swearing going on?

A. No. We did at one point when I was up in our criminal investigations division, but our police officers aren't cross trained. We do have mutual aid agreements with Orange County and Seminole County, however.

Q. Okay. So on September 4th, 2013, you were just on patrol around campus?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. And what drew your attention to Victoria King?

A. Initially, I was on Gemini North heading towards Alafaya Trail and I saw a vehicle change lanes without signalling and kind of cut off another vehicle. So I got behind the vehicle and noticed that it was only -- there was only one working brake light on the vehicle, so I decided to initiate a traffic stop on the car.

Q. This was on campus?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. Okay. How did you initiate it?

A. Well, I called out the license plate and when -- I believe we stopped at a traffic light before and I didn't turn on my emergency lights at that point. I waited until the light turned green, then I turned on my emergency lights.

Q. Okay. And when you called out the license plate, what kind of response did you get?

A. I couldn't tell you exactly what they said. They typically just acknowledge my location. Sometimes they come back and let you know if the registration's valid on it or not. I couldn't tell you specifically that --

Q. Okay. But the best of your recollection, there was no issues with the license plate?

A. I don't believe they indicated any issues at that time, but I couldn't tell you for sure.

Q. Would that be something you would've noted in your report?

A. Probably not.

Q. And when you talk about issues, issues would be like stolen vehicle or expired tag?

A. Yes.

Q. The tag on it improperly displayed or the wrong vehicle; something like that?

A. Yes. But also, according to Statute 320.0605, registration of the vehicle is supposed to be in the vehicle as long as it's being operated upon the public roadways of the state.

Q. Okay. So you pulled her over?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. Okay. And this is all on videotape, obviously.

A. Yes, sir.

Q. You've seen it; I've seen it.

MR. WEEDEN: I don't know if you've seen it or not.

MS. McMANUS: I've seen it.

BY MR. WEEDEN:

Q. You approached the vehicle?

A. Yes, sir.
Q. All right. And you get her driver's license?
A. Yes, sir.
Q. Take it back to your vehicle?
A. Mm-hmm.
Q. And what do you do with it back there?
A. What do I do with the license?
Q. Right.
A. Normally, I'll look up the individual through DAVID or I'll call it through our dispatch and do both or a combination thereof.
Q. What did you do that day?
A. Again, I really couldn't tell you off the top. I haven't watched the video in quite a long time and I couldn't tell you.
Q. Okay.
A. It would be recorded, though, whatever I did, so if I called it out or if I ran it in DAVID or what have you.
Q. And what does running DAVID mean?
A. Well, DAVID is the database. It's through the Department of Highway Safety Motor Vehicles. It's has driver, driver's license records; vehicle records. It shows the DAVID record or the driver's license record through there.

Q. Okay. So you were able to pull up her driving record through DAVID?

A. We can, yes.

Q. Did you do that that day?

A. I couldn't tell you for sure, sir.

Q. Does DAVID also tell you if there's any warrants out for anybody?

A. Um, no. I have seen warrants mentioned in a DAVID record before, but it's not the primary means of us checking for warrants.

Q. Did you run her for a warrant, her name?

A. When I run through dispatch, that's what they are checking for.

Q. And what was the response from dispatch?

A. As far as I know, there weren't any warrants. Otherwise, my approach would've been a little different.

Q. Okay. She informed you she was a student at UCF, correct?

A. I believe so.

Q. Did you do anything to confirm that information?

A. I couldn't tell you. On occasion, I do run people or have them run them all the way, we say, or our radar will say run them all the way through and they check their CH history, student status, et cetera, et cetera.

Q. I'm sorry. CH history, what does that mean?

A. A criminal history. I'm sorry. I apologize.

Q. Okay.

A. Criminal history, student status; if there's any warrants. I say student status, but it could be any affiliation with the university. It could be, you know, staff or whatever member. If we had any prior contact with that individual or anything like that.

Q. And dispatch does all that for you?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. Do they keep a record of that, themselves, when they do that?

A. I think if we are to request a hard copy of any of that, yes. I think they do keep a dissemination log, but I don't know if anything's just logged. It should be logged. I'm sure through FCIC, NCIC for whoever ran them.

Q. Do you have any idea how long they keep that log?

A. I have no idea, sir.

Q. Okay. At some point, you made a decision to give her a ticket?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. Did you make that decision in your vehicle or at her window?

A. I couldn't tell you where exactly I made the decision. I can tell you that based off my initial contact, the way that I view traffic is that it's trying to correct a behavior. And during my initial contact, I explained, you know -- asked her to look for her registration and informed her that it was a citable offense and I asked her several more times to look for it.

So based off of -- just she didn't seem too concerned with the whole ordeal, I decided to issue a citation at that point because I didn't think that she was taking the situation necessarily seriously on that point. You know, it's -- I'm not gonna -- it's really -- I can't tell you where I made the decision, though. If it outside the vehicle or if it was in my vehicle, sir.

Q. Okay. And when you say she was not taking the matter seriously, you would've had the discretion just to give her a warning ticket as well?

A. Yes, sir. Florida statute allows us to make -- allows us to have discretion for traffic infractions and misdemeanors. And there's a very good chance she would've gotten just the warning if she would've made an attempt to even look for the registration.

Q. Did she tell you it was not her vehicle?

A. She did. She informed me it was her mother's vehicle.

Q. And did you confirm that? Was that confirmed for you by dispatch?

A. I believe I did verify that at some point.

Q. So you wrote a ticket out for her?

A. Yes, sir. And I didn't even write her a ticket for the registration. I wrote her a fix-it ticket for the tail light. I was trying to cut her a little bit of a break.

Q. Well, did you tell her she didn't have to sign the ticket?

A. No. We never really got to that point, sir.

Q. You never told her that?

A. No. We never, like I said.

Q. Did you tell her you wanted her to sign the ticket?

A. Yes, I believe I did.

Q. There was no obligation for her to sign the ticket, was there?

A. No, sir.

Q. When did you learn that?

A. I couldn't tell you. I want to say it was in a case brief that was sent out to law enforcement probably about two years ago. I can't tell you specifically.

Q. But for two years, you've known that, that a driver has no duty --

A. Yes.

Q. -- or requirement to sign a traffic ticket?

A. Yes. Absolutely. And I say two years. I'm guesstimating there.

Q. Okay. And would it be fair to say there was nothing that prevented you from just handing her the ticket, correct? When it was announced officially to hand her the ticket?

A. Well, in that instance, there are a lot of other factors that I was taking into account before giving her the ticket. You know, I don't understand. The whole mood of the traffic stop changed from the initial contact from the second time I walked up. And I don't know if that was because of her discovering that I was issuing her a citation or not. But already, to begin with, I was kind of on my guard because she wasn't making any attempt to look for the registration. So I was concerned that there might have been something in the glove box or something she was concealing that she didn't want me to see.

Q. She seemed pretty flustered, didn't she?

A. Initially, I wouldn't say flustered. You know, she did mention that she -- I believe she said something to the effect of, well, my health is so bad or something. But, you know, it didn't seem like it was a big deal to her. It wasn't with -- she didn't seem too adamant about it or anything. It didn't seem that there was a sense of urgency behind it.

And on traffic stops, we actually hear that quite a bit. You know, people come up with some sort of excuse or something like that to try to get out of a, you know, a ticket or something. So I figured that if it really reached out or if it was, you know, there was a sense of urgency, that it would've presented as such.

So, you know, the second time, I approached the vehicle after, you know, the first approach, I will say she seemed a little bit more flustered. I wouldn't say -- I wouldn't really used flustered. I'd say more adversarial than the initial time. The first time --

Q. She asked you what was going on, right?

A. I believe so.

Q. Okay. And would you agree a citizen has a right to ask a police officer --

A. Yes, absolutely.

Q. -- what authority they have for citations?

A. Well, again, we don't have to go citing off statute and case law on the side of the road, you know. You know, she was informed the reason why she was stopped. The whole cause for our meeting, our talk, and that was it.

You know, I would say if she felt like something was askew or something was not right, then sure. But it didn't seem like that was the case. It seemed like it was more of, you know, just trying to be difficult.

Q. But when you approached the window with the ticket, there was nothing to prevent you from handing her the ticket, correct?

A. Um, well, there's nothing preventing me from handing her the ticket, no. There's nothing preventing me from handing her the ticket.

Q. And you made the decision not to do that.

A. Correct. I was gonna explain the whole citation to her; offer -- you know, I always go up and say, hey, I'd like you to sign the citation or I want you to sign the citation. I never had anyone really tell me no, ever.

Q. But you're aware --

A. In the situation with the window, the window is down initially. And then it was such a big deal with it being rolled down completely the second time, I was -- that again, gives me a little bit more cause for concern. Why is it okay then but not now? Why aren't you going in the glove box? So, you know, in a situation like that, it does raise, you know --

Q. Suspicion.

A. It does raise my suspicion level. And, you know, the whole, the whole traffic stop would have, I don't know, probably lasted an additional 30 to 45 seconds if my initial request, you know, to roll down the window, if she followed through with that. But because, you know, she didn't --

Q. Was it a request or was that a command?

A. I believe it was a request. The way it was worded, you know, I'd like -- ma'am, could you roll down the window? I'd have to watch the whole video again. But I didn't order anyone, you know.

I know at one point I did, when she wasn't complying with it, I know I did order her to get out of the vehicle. I didn't think the request was too farfetched, though, based off of everything, you know, the totality of the situation.

Q. When you ordered her to get out of the vehicle, had you already written the ticket?

A. When I ordered her to get out of the vehicle?

Q. Mm-hmm.

A. I'm sorry, sir?

Q. Had you already written the ticket?

A. Yes, sir. Yes, sir. Well, I had to rewrite the ticket so, I mean, not the ticket she wound up paying, but, yes, I did write a ticket. I had to void that citation because it got [redacted] on it. The initial citation.

Q. Okay. Other than her being nervous and flustered, what else was it that gave you suspicion?

A. Well, again, it was -- I can't tell you how many times I requested the registration, asked her if she wanted to look for the registration; informed her most people keep it in the glove box. She was very hesitant to go in there, so that raised my suspicion level.

Walking up to the vehicle the second time and the unwillingness to roll the window down this time, but the first time it was okay. These are all things that are raising my suspicion. And also, it is kind of hard to see in the vehicle from my vantage point, because I have sunglasses on and I had the camera mounted on the side of my sunglasses. You know, it does make things a little bit darker in that instance.

So, you know, like I said, I request people to roll down their window all the time in traffic stops. It's never an issue. It's never an issue except for this time.

So I mean, just a combination of everything really started to raise, you know, it was raised a little bit, and then it started, you know, getting more -- plus her level of, you know, the way she became argumentative. That's -- you know, before, everything was cordial and fine. And then the second approach, everything was not so, you know, nice; amicable.

Q. Would you agree that once you had written the ticket, the basis of the traffic stop was over?

A. No, I would not agree with that.

Q. Why's that?

A. Because I still have to give her the citation.

Q. There was nothing to prevent you from giving her the citation, correct?

A. Well, there's no one holding me back from giving the citation other than the fact that she wouldn't get -- roll down the window or get out of the vehicle.

MR. WEEDEN: I have no other questions. Any questions?

MS. McMANUS: Nope.

MR. WEEDEN: Read or waive?

Disposition: CILS - NA for WB - Update case only Date Closed: 3/14/2014
Nature of Complaint:
3/14/14 -- Complainant stated he was calling regarding a complaint he made and received a letter from Ms. Robinson with CIG #201403070003. Complainant requested email address for Heather Robinson, which was provided to him. Complainant also asked if he would be receiving a response from this office and he was advised that his concerns were referred to Chief Audit Executive for review and ADA and they would be contacting him and the matter is closed in this office. Complainant said UCF Audit did interview him yesterday and did a very good job. Complainant further stated that he had asked Pete Antonacci to have FDLE investigate the criminal matter. It was explained to Mr. Wood that the protocol normally is that once anything criminally is discovered it is then referred to FDLE. Complainant said FDLE is already involved and he needs something formal from the Governors Office stating that. Complainant was advised that this office is unaware of FDLE investigating and he would need to follow-up with Mr. Antonaccis office. Complainant asked for Mr. Antonaccis telephone number and it was provided to him. Complainant further requested copies of documents in the file other than those that he would already have. When reviewing the case on the OCIG database, complainant was advised of the documents contained in the file and he then stated he wanted to defer his PRR at this time. Complainant expressed appreciation for the assistance and the call was concluded.

Disposition: CILS - NA for WB - Update case only Date Closed: 6/12/2014
Nature of Complaint:
6/12/14 -- Received call on the CIG phone line from complainant who asked for IM Robinson. EA Sanders advised she was gone for the day and offered assistance. Complainant asked for the name of the CIG. Although EA Sanders spelled it to complainant, he continued to call her "Linda Miguel." Complainant provided his name and said that he is a complainant in an OIG case, and a reporter with the Bay Community News. He provided CIG #201403070003 and EA Sanders recognized his issues. Then complainant asked for the CIGs email address. EA Sanders provided "cig@eog.myflorida.com" then complainant said ok now give me the CIGs email (Melinda Miguels). EA Sanders reiterated that if he emails cig@eog.myflorida.com it will get to CIG Miguel. Complainant called EA Sanders a liar and demanded CIG Miguels email. He said he had already looked it up but he wanted EA Sanders to give it to him anyway. EA Sanders placed complainant on hold and conferred with DCIG Case who advised to go ahead and give him the email and let CIG Miguel know. EA Sanders returned to the call and provided the following email address, "melinda.miguel@eog.myflorida.com," Complainant then asked for Heather Robinsons email. EA Sanders provided, "heather.robinson@eog.myflorida.com". Complainant said that when he sends his emails out he wants to know it went directly to CIG Miguel and IM Robinson despite the fact that they get emails from the CIG inbox. Complainant repeated his same concerns as in 201403070003. Complainant said UCF is covering this up and he wants this office to reopen our case. EA Sanders advised this office does not have jurisdiction over the universities such as UCF but he strongly disagrees. Complainant said that the governor does have jurisdiction. Furthermore the governor has the power to refer this to FDLE for investigation, which he believes needs to happen. EA Sanders told the complainant she would note that. Complainant apologized for being harsh and said that he has been fighting for access to public records for many years. He said with the help of his friend Carolyn Timmann he has sued many government employees like EA Sanders who have lied to him and prevented him from access to public records. Complainant was informed this information would be relayed to her supervisors and the call was ended.

During a Data Integrity review, the reviewer should examine the paper file to ensure all documents are accounted for and in the proper order. The reviewer should then look over the electronic case record to ensure that all pertinent sections in the Tracking System are filled in accurately. If any changes are necessary, the reviewer should make the changes, print out a new case tracking sheet for the paper file, and go over the adjustments with the person who last updated the case for future consistency. Once a Data Integrity review has been completed, the reviewer should put a check mark in the box next to their name and record the date they completed the review. After a case has been reviewed for Data Integrity, it can be filed in the appropriate filing cabinet.
