Florida's Five Year Prevention and Permanency Plan State Fiscal Year 2013 – 2014 Progress

Highlights and Accomplishments

The Easter Egg Hunt at the Governor's Mansion was held April 12th. There were over 75 foster/adoptive children who attended. The Easter Bunny of course was big hit along with Phil Meyer - the magician! Picture below is of a recently adopted little girl! Monford Middle School and Chiles High School students volunteered during the event - from setting up, to hiding eggs, to help cleaning up. The weather was beautiful and everyone had a great time!

The Fourth Annual Corey's Kids Camp for Champs was held in July. We had 41 youth participate in the one night, two day camp, along with 45 mentors/volunteers. One mentor, who also served as a mentor last year, came from Georgia again to mentor his youth from the previous year! Our mentors/volunteers were staff from the Northwest Region (Circuits 2 and 14), Office of the Governor, Children's Home Society, Big Bend Community Based Care, FAMU, FSU, Boystown, Inspire, local high schools etc. This year we went to Palmer Munroe Teen Center and the youth had a blast! They played basketball, had a team kick ball game, girls were able to get a makeover including hair and makeup, some youth created songs in their sound booth, played ping pong, pool and video games! That night they went to see Godzilla at the IMAX! Saturday was a great day at Beau Turner, fishing was the favorite! Miss Katrina caught the largest catfish of the day! Archery was also available for the youth; for many, it was their first time!

Fish and Wildlife Commission Camp - Fish and Wildlife hosted a one day Camp for Champions on Aug 12. Thirty-seven youth from Boystown, Florida Baptist and Inspire enjoyed a day of outdoor activity! Activities provided were kayaking, hiking, fishing, archery and a ride on a "shocker" boat. The officers also grilled hamburgers and hotdogs for lunch! The Joe Budd area is a beautiful area and the weather was perfect. The Florida Channel came out and interviewed two youth and an officer, as well as filmed the youth enjoying the activities.

Leon County EMS taught DCF and community providers the recommendations the American Heart Association developed in 2010 of C-A-B (Compressions-Airway-Breathing) along with the new emphasis on “Hands-Only CPR” as well as AED use and choking techniques - for infants, children and adults. This training was free of charge and in support of the second phase of the DCF Water Safety Initiative. The American Heart Association recommends chest compressions only - 100 per minute for an average of 8 minutes - the length of time it would take EMS to arrive. It was suggested if there is more than one person, trade off every two minutes.

The One Simple Wish team stopped in Tallahassee on their 6,000 mile journey across the United States to meet 100 children in foster care who are legally free for adoption to grant them the Ultimate Wish - They want to find them a forever family! Five special youth had a private celebration and later that evening a huge party with numerous other foster children and families. They were all given games as a take away!

DCF hosted Bridges Out of Poverty - Strategies for Professionals and Communities workshop, over 90 attended. The trainer, Michael Dames, from Charlotte, North Carolina, was dynamic and well-liked by the attendees. All DCF staff that attended received a copy of the book.

AT&T Skills to Go Camp - Twenty teens and young adults, ages 13 to 21, took part in a technology showcase with AT&T in Tallahassee. The event was made possible through the AT&T Aspire program which invests $350 million, nationwide into college and career readiness for students who are considered at-risk. The camp was held at TCC for the morning session and the afternoon session was at the AT&T Tennessee Street location. The morning session included training on decision making, how to prepare a resume, how to complete an application and how to interview. Equawn Burrows, FAF Coordinator, gave the group a tour of the campus as well. At the store, the store manager gave an inspirational story on how he had substance issues when he was younger and how he found support to help him through his troubled times and is now a store manager of a million dollar store. At the store, they also were able to be hands on with all of the technology in the store. Florida Channel was there as well, working on a story to highlight AT&T's service to education youth through their Aspire Program.

Three local child advocates donated more than 60 bags of supplies gathered through Project Night Night to a local DCF Child Protective Investigations Unit for children who have been removed from their homes. Lauren Byrd, Kelly Bench, and Lindsay Elliott learned about Project Night Night and partnered with DCF to share this project with our DCF Child Abuse Investigators. Each package contained a blanket, a book, and a stuffed animal. Each package is age and gender appropriate, and is designed to give children comfort and something they can call their own. These items were chosen to meet the education and emotional needs during a time of crisis for a child. Finding comfort is important for children in order to feel secure, loved and valued, even in the midst of the uncertainty. This is the first project in the Northwest part of Florida - there are 13 other projects statewide. “When I discovered the Project Night Night program I knew it was something I wanted to bring to our community,” said Lauren Byrd. “I reached out to couple of friends and we began gathering items with hopes to one day donate them to children in need. Being able to bring comfort to children, even in the slightest sense, who are emotionally vulnerable brings us a lot of joy.”

King Arthur's Tools provided a tour to foster youth on March 20. Boystown brought 12 youth to tour their shops. King Arthur's Tools® offers a unique range of chain saw products developed to cut and shape a variety of different materials. Their company specializes in power tools and accessories – named after medieval Knights of the Round Table and ship products all over the world. They have various shops at their site named after Knights and brought in their local craftsman to show the youth how they use their tools to make bowls and other products. The youth also got to dress in some traditional medieval costumes and hold traditional swords from that time period. The shop also has a gallery of wood works from artists all over the world, items that were given to the owners as gifts. The youth had a great time and the owners are willing to provide slots to two of the older boys in their next wood working workshop.

Developmental Screening Days

Whole Child Leon is in its 5th year of hosting early childhood screenings in our community. Whole Child Leon coordinates and collaborates with over 25 agencies/businesses and 100 plus volunteers to provide twice annual comprehensive developmental screening to infants, toddlers and preschoolers in areas that include speech, social –emotional development, vision, hearing and dental. Children are screened and when issues are detected, their families are connected to appropriate agencies for early intervention assistance. The process used in the Free Community Wide Developmental Screening connects 100% of families immediately at the screening site with early intervention programs. To date, 624 children have been screened. In 2013, Whole Child Leon's community screening initiative was highlighted by Florida's Statewide Screening Task Force as a best practice community initiative. The screening team has offered assistance and support to help surrounding counties coordinate screening events.

Food on the Move- Whole Child Leon partnered with America's Second Harvest of the Big Bend, the City of Tallahassee and Leon County Schools to provide the community with a mobile feeding bus to offer meals and nutrition education information and other resources to children (and their families) to food insecure neighborhoods as part of Florida's Summer Breakspot feeding program. The effort launched in summer 2014 and is one of only 10 mobile feeding units in the state. The bus stopped in 12 hard to reach neighborhoods and served children ages 2 to 18. The initiative was a coordinated effort and ran for 12 weeks during the summer. As a result of this initiative:

- 1400 meals served
- 140 families participated
- 12 stops in hard to reach neighborhoods
- 17 volunteers
- 835 hours logged

Brehon held an Inaugural Walk for Prevention that was held to launch April 2014 as Child Abuse Prevention Month. It was a success and they look forward to their next one in April 2015.

WFSU through the American Graduate: Let's Make It Happen community service grant from The Corporation for Public Broadcasting (CPB) is addressing educational challenges facing rural communities and in particular Jefferson County where the graduation rate is 35.1%. WFSU is aligning American Graduate resources with their CPB funded Ready To Learn (RTL) services allowing the station to have a PreK through 12th grade education focus. The RTL service uses multiplatform media and other learning tools - including television programs, interactive games, mobile apps, as well as hands-on activities – to engage and strengthen early learning experiences for children ages 2-8 at home, in preschool, and in other out of school settings. This past summer, WFSU hosted a six week Super Why! Summer Reading Camp at Jefferson County Elementary School. WFSU recently launched a multi-part radio series examining the challenges rural communities face in providing a quality education for its students. Local education and community leaders were recently featured in the American Graduate Day program that aired on September 27th. WFSU will be launching a series of videos featuring American Graduate Champions, individuals that have a significant impact on student success. The goal of this project is to raise awareness of the educational needs in local communities, highlight what is working, link to researched based resources of PBS and facilitate partnerships within the community to sustain successful strategies. Additional Activities

Early Intervention Court was initiated in Circuit 2. Teaches parents how to have a healthy relationship with their child for families who are involved in Dependency Court.

Interagency Collaboration

- Farm Share Distributions – DCF helps facilitate at least two provider fairs and Farm Share distributions a year. DCF and many community partners help in additional Farm Share distributions throughout the year.
- PACT (Parents and Providers Advocating for Children Together) PACT is a consortium of early childhood providers, parents and community leaders who focus on a community level investment in the social, emotional, developmental and behavioral well-being of young children and their families in the Gadsden and Leon County area. They are working with Family Café, youth organizations and MyFest.
- GAL volunteers are appointed to 100% of dependency cases. A GAL Volunteer is assigned within 48 hours of a case coming into court. They use a team model – a volunteer, coordinator and attorney are assigned to one case.
- Because of the positive results of the well-being 0-5 pilot by Big Bend Community Based Care, ELC decided to take on the initiative of having the early care and education team at ELC track the protective services kids with Teaching Strategies GOLD no matter what childcare setting they are in/childcare provider they have. This way we have a monitoring tool on one of our most at risk populations so as to better prevent the children from being missed and ensure they get the developmental services they need.

Proposed Activities for 2014-2015

- Honey's House - To address the issue of children of families who are homeless, the Comprehensive Emergency Services Center/Renaissance Community Center Child Development Workgroup was formed this summer. This small group of dedicated people, represents education, social services, the faith-based community, government and concerned citizens are proceeding to develop a nurturing environment for the youngest of these children. This comprehensive center, Honey's House, will offer a continuum of services to supplement the housing and other social services provided by RCC. All young children aged 0 - 6 will be welcome. Services will vary from a quality early childhood education program, extended care in the evening for parents who work, to developmental screening and therapeutic services. Parents can participate fully in the program through volunteering, parent education and job training. Through a partnership with Goodwill Industries, Honey's House will be located in what is currently the Dick Howser Center for Childhood Services. Plans are for an additional classroom building to be constructed. The proximity to The Prosperity Center at Goodwill will give parents the opportunity for job search and training, knowing their child has a safe place with an educationally enriched child care experience. The future goal is to expand services to all children including after school care and youth activities. Honey's House should be ready to begin serving the children of families experiencing homelessness the summer of 2015.
- Super Saturday is going to two ½ day events – this event provides training to foster parents for free and provides free child care for their children

- ELC will be providing I-Pads to Hope Homeless Community for parents to complete ASQ/D/SE (in English and Spanish) on their children. This information will funnel directly to the ELC and they will assess and ensure the child get appropriate services more quickly.
- PACT – System of Care will expand to other counties in Circuit 2.
- Developmental Screenings will continue.
- In Wakulla and Franklin, a Domestic Violence Advocate will be co-located with CPI Staff.
- Need to identify service providers for youth victims of human trafficking and continue to develop expertise in case management and CPI staff.
