

Gov. Ron DeSantis recently appointed Shevaun Harris as acting secretary of the Agency for Health Care Administration. Harris has been at the agency for more than a decade, having held the positions of bureau chief of Medicaid policy and AHCA administrator. She is also an adjunct professor at Florida State University and a case manager at Big Bend Cares.

Harris previously served as AHCA's assistant deputy secretary for Medicaid Policy & Medicaid Quality, which includes 110 employees. She directed the development of comprehensive Medicaid strategic and program plans.
